Mitzi, Mikey
and Pookie

Mayor Mitzi in her 'Lion King' Simba costume

Hello everyone!
It's me, Mayor Mitzi.

As Mayor Mitzi, I thought you might like to know some personal information about me. I think I have retained my role as the alpha dog in the Mayor's office. Just ask anyone who saw me in action at La Casita (in the Mayor Mobile) on Monday night, the 30th. There can be no doubt about my prowess on controlling Mayors Max and Mikey!

Also, I am an aspiring actress and model and love to be dressed up in outfits and have my picture taken. I will chew and eat the outfits, but I just love all the extra attention. I love wearing bows in my hair and flowered collars. The boys (Mayors Max and Mikey) still pull these off of me every single day. That's why you don't see me dressed up as much as I would like, but I do long for the day when I can wear a decent outfit for more than three seconds.

I am very excited about my upcoming role as Mitzi in the movie, "Wild Dogs." Filming starts in 2014 in Idyllwild. Though there are rumors that this will be a series of iPhone home videos of us being wild dogs playing around in various Idyllwild, Temecula and Orange County locations, I feel that we have better script ideas being discussed for the screenplay. Either way, I know I will be dazzling in the movie.

Of the three of us, I am the best retriever. If you throw the ball, I will be the one to get it first 7 times out of 10. If you put a paper plate anywhere within my reach, I will snatch it from you, and you will NOT be able to get it back no matter how hard you try. I will then eat the paper plate and destroy the evidence that I have done this.

If you would like to communicate with me, please contact me via email at max@mayormax.com or on Facebook as Mayor Max or by telephone at 951.659.0283 or by U.S. mail at PO Box 1848, Idyllwild, CA 92549. I will always get back to you ASAP as soon as I'm out of wardrobe or filming or visits at the Mayor Mobile.

Regarding Facebook, I am very proud that I get more likes than the boys. I keep watch and this pleases me. They don't watch so they don't know this, so don't tell them. Thank you.

I love you very much.

Love always,

Mayor Mikey

Hello everyone!
It's me, Mayor Mikey.

I am very proud to let you know that I am the most mischievous of the three mayors. It is true that I like to tackle Pookie. I am not thrilled, however, that she figured out how to bite me on the ear when I tackle her, so I have backed off a bit now.

I am always looking for something to do or chew, and I just happen to know what's wrong to do, and I set about to do it with complete gusto. For example, I like crawling under the car seats and chewing on whatever wires I find. If you really want to get Glenn going, I have figured out to chew his iPhone cables.

I like finding ways to sneak up into the front seat of the car through the protective gate barrier and jump on Pookie and get into her seat with her. I also like to pretend I am walking straight out the door in the morning to go outside for a walk, but when you least expect it, I dart over to the dog food bag and attack it—tasty! I know Phyllis gets a kick out of this every time because she's so vocal about it.

I am the first in our dog family to successfully climb and scale 4-foot-tall dog pens and get out and create mischief. I think I am just a week or two away from getting the door handles open at the house. I am pushing down on the handle, and I think in a week or two, I will have figured out that I just have to push harder (and it will help when I am a little taller too, more leverage), and I will be able to get in and out of the house at will. This will be fun.

It is true that I am taking a bit of heat for being the dog that gets the most timeouts. Phyllis let everyone know that I, at the Puppy Shower, got 6 timeouts, Max got 3, and Mitzi got 1. This is just my way of making Phyllis forget about all of her problems, because when I'm starting a fight with Max or Mitzi, she feels compelled to do something about it. So she holds me until I have settled down. Phyllis gets a good workout this way, and she's not thinking about anything other than getting me under control and trying to preserve my image as one of the Mayors of Idyllwild. My timeouts are truly a humanitarian endeavor.

Phyllis calls me the Wonder Dog...she wonders what I'm going to do next!

Well, those are some of the highlights. I love you very much and look forward to seeing you soon.

Love always,

Pookie Mueller, PRP

Hello everyone!
It's me, Pookie Mueller, the Puppy Rearing Professional
(PRP) for the Hooligan
Mayors of Idyllwild.

Well, it took me a while, but I finally figured out that my puppies have grown from 8-10 pounds to 40-45 pounds, and I don't think this was in my job description when I took the job. At first, I thought I was imagining this, but now, to look them square in the eye and let them know I mean business, I have to look up. Yikes!

Getting them under control has been difficult because they are so enthusiastic. When they see me, they squeal and squeak with puppy delight, and they just want to jump and play. That was fine at 8 pounds, but at 45 pounds per dog, it's an issue.

We have resolved this problem by creating two entirely separate living environments at the Mayors' office and home that enable me to have a safe space while the Hooligan Mayors have their romping room as well. I lecture them continually about proper manners for interacting with senior dogs. I don't think they are listening yet.

Still, I know I am totally pampered because I remember what the contrast was like living as an abandoned dog down at Lake Hemet. Now, I get to sleep on the bed, I get carried up and down the stairs, I get delicious meals from the finest restaurants in Idyllwild, and much more.

Phyllis has promised me that the Mayors will be kept separate until they settle down (somewhere between 1 to 7 years)...

Recently, Phyllis and Glenn purchased some ThunderShirts for me to make me feel safe and they also help to keep dogs from barking. Well, I like my ThunderShirts so much, I bark constantly now to say thank you and communicate my complete delight that I have them. They make me feel great, and I get extra frisky when I am wearing them.

Those are the highlights from the PRP (pronounced "perp"). That makes the Mayors laugh out loud, I'm not sure why.

Thank you for paying attention to me. I love you very much.
